

Trans-Bridge Lines Highlights Commitment to Safety with Week Long Sessions

We are proud to share that we have recently concluded our annual Safety Week, a series of training sessions and activities aimed at enhancing safety awareness and practices among employees.

The week commenced with a session for office and shop employees, including presentations on traffic merging, active shooter scenarios with the Pennsylvania State Police, a health and wellness discussion, and safety protocols for slips, trips, and falls. Guest speakers shared their areas of expertise to help employees avoid injuries and ensure best practices in all areas of safety.

Nathan Branosky, Public Information Officer with the Pennsylvania State Police explains the Run, Hide, Fight strategy for fighting an active shooter on Monday, May 19 at our offices in Bethlehem.

Subsequent days included specialized training for drivers at the Port Authority Bus Terminal in New York City, focusing on vehicle inspections, accident procedures, and bus fire protocols. Office, shop, and wash bay employees participated in discussions with topics ranging from the use of ear buds and being aware of one's surroundings in the workplace to cybersecurity safety in avoiding scams, fraud, and theft of information.

Company President Tom JeBrán delivered his annual "State of the Company" address, providing updates on company operations and acknowledging employee contributions. He emphasized the importance of transparency and teamwork, stating:

"I take the opportunity to give our 'State of the Company' report each year because I feel our employees deserve to know our challenges and accomplishments. We discuss what we have done in the past year, what is currently in progress, and our goals for the future. We are a team, and through collaboration, we can put our ideas into action to make them a reality. We always want to encourage our employees to share their thoughts and concerns, so that we can improve or enhance our service. That ultimately makes us a better company for each other and our passengers."

During the week, we also proudly recognized the dedication and commitment of our drivers by honoring their years of safe driving with the presentation of certificates and service pins. The recognition ceremony highlighted the vital role our drivers play in upholding the company's standards of safety, reliability, and excellence. Trans-Bridge Lines values the loyalty and hard work of its staff and remains committed to celebrating their contributions to the company's continued success.

Safety Week is ultimately about making a commitment to focus on all aspects of safety — preventative measures, crisis response, and positive outcomes — with topics ranging from vehicle accidents and fires to medical emergencies and healthy lifestyles.

IMPORTANT! Please be sure to acquire a parking permit if you are departing from the Lehigh Valley Airport and leaving your vehicle in our designated lot.

Cars without permits will be ticketed by the Lehigh Northampton Airport Authority. We are working to add parking permits to our online platform, but until that feature is available, passengers must contact us or stop by our main office to acquire the permit. Click here for more information and a map of our designated parking lot at the Airport.

Trans-Bridge Lines maintains on-site staff when buses are running and our Dispatch personnel handles all matters relating to our drivers and buses. Although they may be reached by selecting the phone prompt for that department, we discourage customers from using that resource for customer service related issues that may be better handled during regular office hours.

Please note that our offices are open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. During these hours, our team is available to assist you with purchasing tickets, securing parking permits, and answering any travel-related questions you may have.

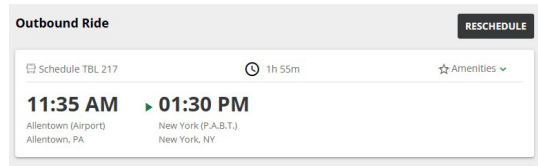

Thank you for your cooperation!

Report Highlights Motorcoach Travel

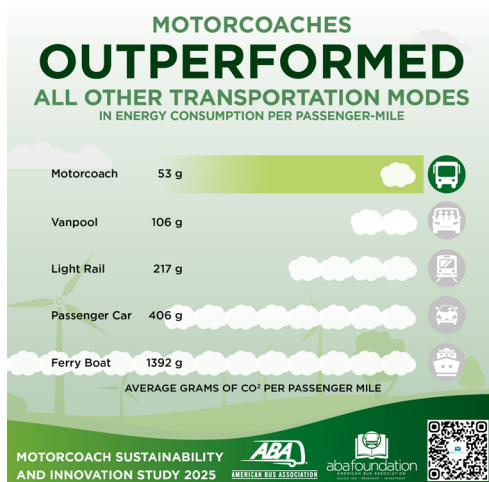

Most Sustainable & Energy-Efficient Transportation Option

May 15, 2025 | news.buses.org

As we approach peak travel season, the American Bus Association released its Motorcoach 2025 Sustainability and Innovation Report, confirming motorcoach travel as the most energy-efficient and environmentally responsible mode of passenger transportation. The report provides a comprehensive look at environmental benefits of motorcoach travel and the sustainability efforts of motorcoach operators and manufacturers.

In 2023 alone, motorcoach travel helped the U.S. avoid an estimated $2.7 billion in social costs tied to emissions. These outcomes aren't just statistics — they're the result of decades of innovation, from clean idle engine technology to sustainable manufacturing practices. The motorcoach industry is proving every day that clean, connected travel is not only possible — it's already here.

The report shows that by adopting cleaner fuels, improving fleet efficiency, cutting emissions, and investing in green infrastructure, the motorcoach industry has sharply reduced its carbon footprint.

As regulations tighten and climate awareness grows, sustainability has become a strategic imperative for future growth and resilience.

Motorcoaches outperform all other forms of travel — air, rail, ferry, transit bus, and personal vehicles—in energy consumption per passenger-mile.

Motorcoaches emit less carbon dioxide per passenger-mile than any other mode, making them the top choice for travelers and policymakers focused on reducing transportation emissions.

Nearly 38 billion passenger miles were traveled by motorcoach in 2023. If those same miles had been traveled by personal cars, the nation would have incurred an estimated $2.7 billion in environmental, health, and economic losses, underscoring the significant social and environmental savings generated by motorcoach travel.

Paul Miller's Law

Source: PA.gov

Drivers are being urged to put down their phones while driving, ahead of the June 5 effective date for "Paul Miller's Law," which makes it illegal to use a hand-held cell phone while driving.

The law prohibits the use of hand-held even while stopped temporarily due to traffic, a red light, or other momentary delay. Pennsylvania already enforces a texting-while-driving ban that prohibits drivers from using mobile devices to send, read, or write text-based communications while their vehicle is in motion. Beginning June 5, 2025, law enforcement will begin issuing written warnings for violations of Senate Bill 37. Law enforcement will have the ability to issue summary citations to violators beginning June 6, 2026.

Under Paul Miller's Law, drivers can still use their phones to alert emergency responders and, if they are using hands-free technology, to make phone calls, use a GPS, and listen to music.

Bridging Safety:

Local Firefighters Train in Emergency Response

Training Manager, Brendan Stanczyk, top left, presents the South Whitehall/Woodlawn Fire Department Engine 32 with an overview of the interior and exterior of the buses including emergency window exits, roof hatches, and system shutdown mechanisms. Stanczyk trained the volunteers using two different models of buses.

Trans-Bridge Lines recently opened its facility to the Woodlawn/South Whitehall Engine 32 Fire Department for a comprehensive training session on bus emergency management.

Firefighters participated in hands-on training, which was designed to provide essential knowledge and practical experience in managing potential emergencies involving motorcoaches. The session included detailed walk-throughs of two types of bus models, instruction on emergency exits and mechanical systems, and simulations of potential rescue scenarios. The training was conducted by Trans-Bridge Lines' Training Manager, Brendan Stanczyk.

Firefighters had the opportunity to explore the interior and exterior features of the buses, including emergency window exits, roof hatches, and battery disconnect systems. Trans-Bridge Lines staff were on hand to explain key systems and answer questions about typical challenges that may arise during an emergency.

"Understanding the layout and mechanics of the buses gives emergency responders a huge advantage in emergency situations," said Stanczyk. We're honored to equip our local heroes with the information they need in order to help others."

The training is part of a broader effort by Trans-Bridge Lines to strengthen partnerships with local emergency services and raise awareness about bus safety.
