Lost Your Ticket?

We've Got You Covered!

We know travel plans can get hectic — emails get buried, phones run out of battery, or paper tickets go missing. At Trans-Bridge Lines, we aim to make your travel experience as stress-free as possible, even if you've misplaced your ticket.

If you lose your ticket, you can still board the bus. Here's how the process works:

- Provide Your Name: When it's time to board, simply let the driver know your full name. This is the name you used when purchasing your ticket.
- Driver Verification: The driver will use a hand-held scanning device that displays the run's passenger manifest. This list includes the names of all passengers scheduled for that particular run.
- Manual Ticket Lift: Once your name is confirmed on the manifest, the driver will manually lift your ticket using the device. This tells our system that you've boarded, just as if your ticket had been scanned.

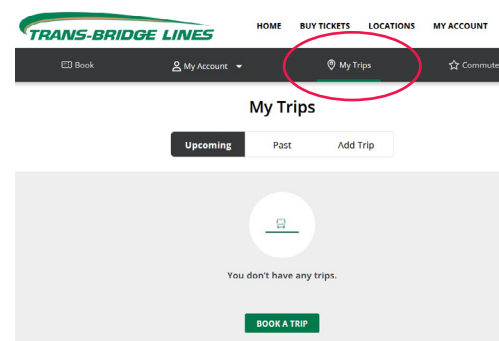

As long as you are properly scheduled for the run you are attempting to board, there's no need to purchase another ticket or contact customer service. As long as your name appears on our passenger list, we can verify your reservation on the spot.

We encourage passengers to keep a screenshot or printout of their ticket, if possible, but if things go awry, we're still ready to welcome you aboard!

Rescheduling Commuter Pass Tickets After Original Departure Time is Missed

As our Commuters know, they are afforded 16 hours passed a missed bus run to reschedule any Commuter Pass tickets. However, our Customer Service Department is receiving messages stating that our customers are not allowed to reschedule these tickets. Here's why our commuters have come to this conclusion ...

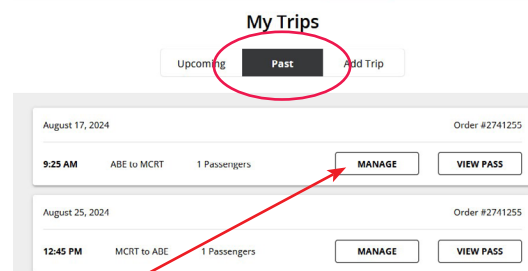

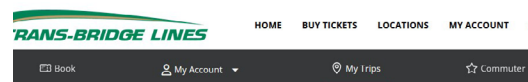

When a passenger wishes to reschedule a ticket on their pass, they sign in to their Trans-Bridge Lines account and navigate to "My Trips" from the top menu as pictured here:

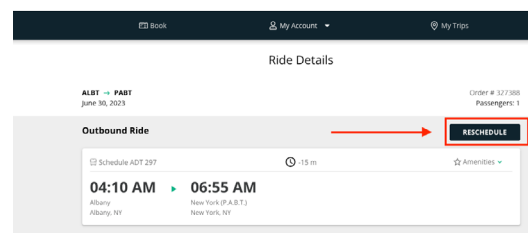

Here's where there is some confusion ...

Passengers will find their scheduled tickets under upcoming only if the bus they originally scheduled hasn't departed. Once the bus departs, the ticket will then move to 'Past' for 16 hours, where it will remain until it is either rescheduled or expires, becoming null and void.

Select 'Past' to see missed runs that are still within the 16-hour window.

Click 'Manage' next to the expired boarding pass, then choose 'Reschedule'.

Select 'Depart and Arrive City', 'Passenger', and 'Select New Date' from the calendar. Choose your time/run from the generated list and select 'Book Now' to the new boarding pass.

Once the 16-hour grace period has elapsed, the ticket is null and void and cannot be rescheduled.

Trans-Bridge Lines will operate with Holiday Schedules on Labor Day, Monday, September 1. There will be no Wall Street Service.

Travel Tips: Staying Healthy During Summer Vacations

Your health never takes a vacation, even when you do. Planning for your health needs before a summer trip can reduce your risk of emergencies and prepare you if one arises.

Here are some essentials to pack:

✓ Health travel checklist

Pack medications and first-aid supplies. Make sure you bring your prescription medication in addition to basic first-aid supplies like band-aids, antiseptic wipes, and pain relievers. Make every attempt to refill prescriptions before traveling to ensure you do not run out.

Depending on where you're headed, you should also bring sunscreen, insect repellent, and hand sanitizer.

✓ Research health risks and requirements

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention can offer real-time information about safety concerns in the region that you're visiting. If you are traveling outside the U.S., it's important to confirm any vaccine requirements and understand the types of local insects that may pose a risk.

✓ Ensure you're covered for emergencies

Review your health plan to see what it covers when you travel and pack your insurance card. If you're heading outside the U.S., you may need to purchase additional coverage.

✓ Plan healthy snacks

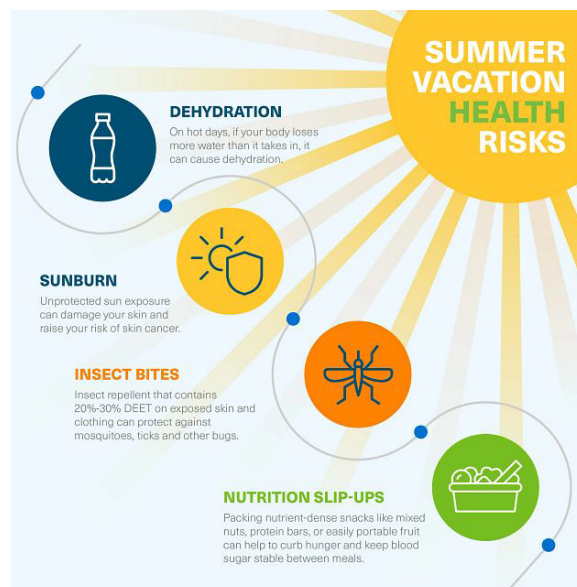

While it's okay to indulge a bit, but some advanced planning can prevent overeating. One strategy is to pack healthy snacks to ensure you're getting necessary nutrition.

✓ Bring info on your chronic condition

If you have a chronic condition like heart disease, diabetes, asthma, or arthritis, you should consider printing a list of active medical conditions, allergies, and medications. This would be helpful to give to medical providers if you need care on your trip, as you shouldn't assume doctors will be able to access that information electronically.

Safety Tips:

- A common issue when traveling is foodborne illnesses, especially if you're trying new or exotic foods. Avoid raw or undercooked foods, including meat, seafood, and eggs.

- If experiencing a health emergency, seek medical care immediately. Minor bone fractures, skin conditions, infections, and allergic reactions can be handled by an urgent care center.
